VOICES FROM THE LOCKDOWN

GUYS

Today is the same as yesterday. Every day, for the past few weeks, looks like a bad copy of a science fiction story.

The first time we heard about this virus, we didn't worry: we selfishly told ourselves that it was too far from our daily life to be alarmed.

The Coronavirus is a current emergency in Italy and we are very concerned about the situation, not only because we are afraid of being our

Our especially because we have to the beginning of the changed but "Teenagers can be strong even via digital tools". None of us live peacefully in this pandemic, there are lots of restrictions. On Saturday nights you can't go to the mall or eat a pizza out with routine has changed do online lessons. Since pandemic something has know that a relationship can be strong even via digital tools". None of us live peacefully in this pandemic, there are lots of restrictions. On Saturday nights you can't go to the mall or eat a pizza out with friends. Seeing people wearing masks and most of the times not even being able to recognize their faces has been the first cause of sadness for us.

We are young and we won't give up even though it's hard. We believe that Italy will be able to recover and be stronger than before. It is difficult for us to face this virus but it is even more difficult for the government and we believe that our Premier Conte is doing his job well. Although we all want to be a little freer, we think it is better to stay home today in order to be respecting these situation so that understand what

Although some people are not restrictions, we believe that if we do not we will get to an unmanageable even the government will not to do to control the pandemic .

TIME TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

For me music improves the school performance of us guys

I agree with you. It also helps us to focus

I focus more with classical music, and you?

I prefer the rock music to focus

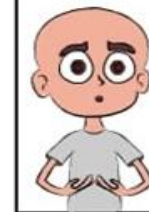

In my opinion it is important to choose the right music according to the subject

I agree, any genre of music can arouse every part of the brain

Each student should have a playlist with songs that help him/her focus

True, so everyone chooses the music that relaxes him/her the most

Sharing COVID-19 experiences: The Italian response

<https://www.euro.who.int/en/countries/italy/publications/video-sharing-covid-19-experiences-the-italian-response>

Italy was the first Western country to be heavily affected by COVID-19. In response to the outbreak, the Italian government and community, across all levels, reacted strongly and effectively, turning around the trajectory of the epidemic by implementing a series of science-based and stringent measures. Determination, collaboration and unity were hallmarks of the Italian response.

Bergamo was the Italian city more reflected by the COVID and I think pandemic it was a very painful situation.

the most difficult moments were when we had to decide to adopt very strict rules to explain to Italians that they had to renounce their activities to reduce their freedom of movement to stay at home

the adoption of the lockdown was able to protect the vast majority of Italy from the infection Italian citizens had the clear perception of the severity of the situation in Italy and their behaviour was always oriented towards a great sense of responsibility

ROBERT PATTINSON

Robert Pattinson born on May 13, 1986, in London, England. He played the role of Edward Cullen in Twilight and the role of Cedric Diggory in Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire. He also starred in Remember me, Water for Elephants and Cosmopolis.

Which role between Cedric and Edward was more difficult to play?

Surely the character of Edward was more difficult to play, especially because it was hard to get into his mentality. Edward suffers for what or who he is and finds himself dealing with love for a human being, which is very difficult for him. Certainly this was the most difficult character to interpret, but Cedric Diggory left me something indelible inside, a new vision of reality.

Do you have any acting projects planned?

I am currently acting in Batman, where I am the protagonist. The film will be released in 2021 due to various delays in registration because of the covid-19.

How did you meet your girlfriend? At work or did you already know her?

My current girlfriend is Suki Waterhouse, and we didn't meet at work. I think she is the right girl for me and I feel ready to marry her.

When you were acting in Twilight, love broke out between you and the co-star. What was it like to be together and make a movie with your girlfriend?

Acting in a romantic movie with your girlfriend is the best, both on a sentimental and acting level. You don't need to pretend, because you really feel those emotions, and the mutual understanding on the set is very different and deep.

Would you like to work for other movies like Twilight or Harry Potter?

I really enjoy acting in these genres of films, because of the wonderful things that come out thanks to special effects. When I starred in Harry Potter, I didn't expect to see me riding a dragon like a horse on TV once the movie came out. If there is an opportunity, I will surely do it again.

What would you say to people pursuing a career as an actor?

I would say not to lose heart. If you don't give up, the results will come, if there's something you really like to do, don't be discouraged by those who say you'll never make a career. The only thing that matters is what you want.

How did you go through the Covid period?

I was asymptomatic. I didn't have any symptoms and I didn't feel sick at all. I discovered it just because we actors constantly undergo swabs, and one was positive. The only thing I felt was the boredom of being at home without being able to go out.

Dear Robert, the interview is over. Do you want to say something to your fans?

Sure. I thank all the people who follow me and who support me, they are very important to me, they are the people who allowed me to get to where I am now, and I owe everything to them.

Thanks Robert for accepting this interview, see you next time.

Thanks to you for inviting me, we will surely see you again. Goodbye.

Music in England

English music has always been considered one of the most important in the world for its influence on culture and in the media and customs. The greatest pop / rock groups of all time are: Rolling Stones, Pink Floyd, Queen, Oasis and Coldplay.

History of English music

Musical creations have always been influenced by religion, Western culture, traditional folk, and instrumental music from England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

History

In the twentieth century, especially for pop and rock music there was the so-called British invasion in America. Today the United Kingdom is one of the most important music industries in the world, and a lot of British artists still influence the modern music scene.

Ranking of English songs

Today the 10 most listened songs in England are:

1. Positions of Ariana Grande
2. Lemonade of Internet Money feat. Don Toliver, Gunna, Nav
3. See Nobody of Wes Nelson feat. Hardy Caprio
4. You Broke Me First of Tate McRae
5. Ain't It Different of Headie One feat. AJ Tracey, Stormzy
6. Midnight Sky of Miley Cyrus
7. Really Love of KSI feat. Craig David & Digital Farm Animals
8. Holy of Justin Bieber feat. Chance
9. Diamonds of Sam Smith
10. Sweet Melody of Little Mix

These Pop songs are the most listened to because they are produced by young and famous singers all over the world; their lyrics are about love, friendship, drugs, money and nature.

INTERVIEW WITH QUEEN ELIZABETH I

A: interviewer

B: Queen Elizabeth

A: Your majesty.

B: Good morning, sir?

A: Valerio Fontana, from Italy.

B: So, Mr Fontana, why are you here?

A: I would like to ask you a few questions.

B: And I would be pleased to answer.

A: First question: what does it feel like to rule a kingdom at just 25 years of age?

B: For me, it was an honour and at the same time a great challenge: the country I inherited was not enjoying a happy time, it was on the verge of social and economic crisis. However, I have always been a determined and clear-minded woman. I have reigned since the first day with great commitment, giving all of myself to my country.

A: I would like to ask your thoughts on the so-called "religious issue". Why did you not tolerate Catholics and send some Puritans into exile, ma'am?

B: The political views of Philip II, the husband of my late sister, and the pontiff were the main reason. It was necessary to protect the nation from those who saw me as a usurper and who wanted my cousin Mary Stuart, a fervent Catholic, on the throne. The Puritans wanted me to transform the English Church radically, eliminating some of its foundations which were part of the compromise with the Roman Catholic Church. England will neither be Catholic nor will be a place ruled by Calvinist fanatics. The Anglican Church was created in a certain way and so will remain in the centuries to come.

A: Was your cousin, Mary Stuart, aware of the plots? Is that the reason why you had her executed?

B: More or less: she proved to be ungrateful. Despite having taken her away from a terrible trial in her Scotland, after she had attacked the life of her own consort, here, in my Kingdom, plotted against my life and my throne so she could take over control.

A: Did you consider yourself a girl like the others, ma'am?

B: In some ways yes, in some ways no. Let me explain: it is not common for my peers to take responsibility for decisions that affect the fate of a nation and millions of people. So, I did not enjoy a carefree life and did not have the common occupations of women my age. However, I must confess that I enjoyed the pleasures of life: I loved dancing and enjoyed it whenever the opportunity arose. I also fell madly in love twice, but that is not that much of a secret here at court.

A: Now the last question. If you do not want to answer this, I will understand it. What was your relationship with your half-siblings?

B: I felt deeply sorry when my half-brother died. You know, we lived together when we were younger, in Hatfield House. Between 1533 and 1536, my half-sister Mary had to serve me as a punishment for not accepting my father and mother's marriage. My relationship with her was complicated: two different faiths, two different educations, two different women and monarchs. Once, she imprisoned me in the Tower of London, for two months. After that I went back to Hatfield, where I received the news of her death and all the consequences that brought.

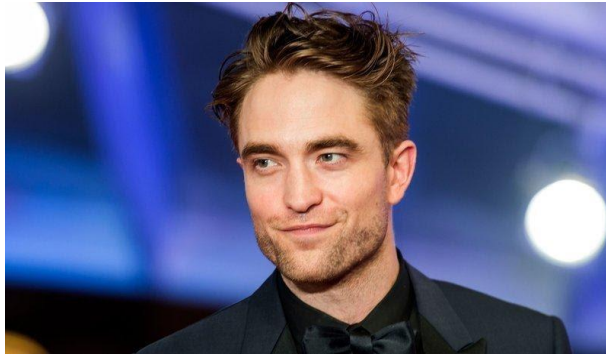

A: Well, Your Majesty, I am glad I got to ask you these few questions, it is an honour for me.

B: As it is for me, sir. I wish you good fortune in your life.

A: Thank you, Your Majesty.

Entrevista a Pablo Picasso.

Periodista: señor Picasso, la considero un gran pintor español del siglo XX, pero ¿Cómo empezó todo?

Picasso: Buenas noches y gracias por la invitación, todo empezó gracias a mi padre que era profesor en la Escuela de Bellas Artes de Málaga y desde allí inmediatamente comencé a aprender las técnicas básicas de la pintura.

Periodista: En 1895 se muda con su familia a Barcelona, ¿Qué pasó?

Picasso: Cuando llegué a Barcelona, comencé a familiarizarme con los ambientes artísticos y conocí a poetas, escritores y artistas que luego me llevarán a París.

Periodista: Posteriormente, decidí dividir el éxito en diferentes períodos, ¿Puede contarnos?

Picasso: Sí, decidí dividir diferentes períodos para señalar el proceso de mi trayectoria artística en el período azul, en el período rosa, en el período africano, en el cubismo analítico y en el cubismo sintético. Siempre he sido muy crítico pero con el tiempo mi genio artístico se ha ido comprimiendo por completo, lo que me ha permitido ser reconocido como uno de los más grandes artistas de nuestra civilización.

Periodista: En su opinión, ¿Cuál es el papel del arte?

Picasso: Cuando pinto, mi objetivo es mostrar lo que he encontrado y no lo que estoy buscando. En el arte las intenciones no son suficientes y, como decimos en España, el amor debe probarse con hechos, no con argumentos. Lo que hace cuenta, no lo que intenta hacer.

El arte es una mentira que nos hace darnos cuenta de la verdad. El artista debe saber cómo convencer a los demás de la verdad de sus mentiras.

Periodista: Sabemos que Guernica tiene un valor inestimable. Cuéntenos un poco cuál fue el impulso para crear esta maravilla.

Picasso: En Guernica expreso mi odio por la casta militar que hundió a España en un océano de dolor y muerte. La ridícula mentira que han circulado los propagandistas fascistas ha sido refutada por la gran cantidad de artistas e intelectuales que han visitado España recientemente, y que han reconocido el profundo respeto que el pueblo español en armas ha demostrado al salvar la gran riqueza de cuadros y pinturas, tapices religiosos y de bombas incendiarias fascistas. Todo el mundo conoce el bárbaro bombardeo del Museo del Prado por parte de aviones rebeldes, todo el mundo sabe cómo los soldados consiguieron salvar los tesoros artísticos arriesgando sus vidas.

Periodista: Una cosa que siempre me he preguntado es: ¿No se cansan los pintores de estar de pie mientras pintan?

Picasso: No. Por eso los pintores viven tanto. Yo mientras trabajo dejo mi cuerpo afuera de la puerta; Trabajo todo el día. Cuando la luz del día empieza a disminuir en el lienzo, proyecto dos focos sobre él y todo a su alrededor desaparece en las sombras. La oscuridad debe ser completa en todas partes, excepto en el lienzo, para que el pintor quede hipnotizado por su obra y pinta casi como en trance. Debe permanecer lo más cerrado posible en su mundo interior, si quiere trascender los límites que su razón intenta imponerle. Todo el mundo tiene energía potencial. La persona promede desperdicia la suya en una docena de pequeñas formas. Práctico el mío en una cosa: mis pinturas, y todo lo demás se les sacrifica ... incluyéndome a mí.

Periodista: No quiero detenerme en esta frase suya. Sé que ilustraste el libro que publicó Skira Ovid's Metamorphosides, que también marcó el inicio de la editorial, ¿Verdad?

Picasso: Exacto. ¿Y sabes cómo nació la idea de ese libro?

Cuando Skira era joven, desesperaba a su madre porque no quería estudiar. Tenía entonces veintidós o veintitrés años y no parecía importarle nada y su madre, que era viuda, no sabía qué hacer con él. Cansado de que le preguntaba constantemente qué iba a hacer en la vida, le declaró un día que quería ser editor. Sorprendida, ella le preguntó qué publicaría. Para calmarla le respondió: "Estoy a punto de publicar un libro ilustrado por Picasso". Ella no quiso desanimarlo y le aconsejó que viniera a verme. Ese fue el comienzo de Skira.

Periodista: En 1904 regresó a París donde vivió allí muchos años. Conocer a alguien nuevo y de regreso de aquel período de serenidad y tranquilidad que se refleja obviamente en sus cuadros.

Pero, ¿Qué tuvo realmente éxito en su vida?

Picasso: Por supuesto, conocí a Matisse, a quien encantaba el arte africano y la llevé de una manera pura y en perspectiva.

Yo era el Polo Sur, yo era el Polo Norte. La nuestra siempre ha sido una relación de amor y odio. Además el año siguiente entró en el apogeo del cubismo, un movimiento artístico que nació en París hacia 1907, que involucró no solo al mundo del arte, sino también al de la literatura y la música.

Cuando Matisse murió, dejó sus odaliscas en mi legado, y esta es mi idea de Oriente, aunque nunca lo fue. Todo se hace con las intenciones del momento. Entonces, lo que tengo ganas de decir es: no juzgues mal lo que no sabes, aproveché para entender.

Periodista: Muchas gracias por su tiempo Sr. Picasso, es un verdadero placer hablar con usted. Siempre llevaremos con nosotros una de sus frases más famosas:

"Lo que haces cuenta, no lo que pretendes hacer".

Picasso: Gracias a ti.

Sevilla

¡Bienvenido! ,

Hoy te llevamos a un lugar mágico: Sevilla

Sevilla es una ciudad de España que tiene 1 millón y 950 miles de habitantes.

Está situada en el sur de la península ibérica y es la capital de Andalucía.

Es famosa por el flamenco, forma de baile o música, y es una ciudad histórica.

El nombre de la ciudad proviene del nombre indígena tartésico Spal o Ispal, que significa "tierra plana". Tras la conquista, los romanos latinizar el nombre en Hispalis, que en época andaluza cambió a Ishbiliya (árabe أشبيلية), debido a la sustitución de la "p" (fonema inexistente en árabe) por la "b" y de la "a" tónica por "i" (fenómeno característico del árabe hispánico conocido como Imāla), del que deriva la forma actual Sevilla.

★ LA HISTORIA

Sevilla tiene una historia milenaria: fundada por los romanos, conquistada por los árabes, alcanza su máximo esplendor en el Siglo de Oro, el período desde el nacimiento del imperio español, que representa el período de mayor gloria de España.

Gracias al Guadalquivir, el único río navegable de España que divide la ciudad en dos, Sevilla ha sido siempre un pujante centro comercial, tanto que en el siglo XIV se ganó el sobrenombre de "puerto y puerta de Indias".

Sevilla acogió la Exposición Universal de 1929 y acogió a millones de visitantes para la Expo de 1992. Para estos eventos Sevilla ha experimentado una importante modernización.

Muchos monumentos de Sevilla tienen influencia musulmana, porque en el pasado, ella fue dominio musulmán.

★ MONUMENTOS DE CULTURA MUSULMANA

Un monumento de la cultura musulmana es:

GIRALDA

Nacida como minarete de la mezquita y luego convertida en campanario de la Catedral, la Giralda es el monumento más emblemático y visitado de Sevilla.

La Giralda se construyó en época musulmana siguiendo el modelo de la Mezquita Koutoubia de Marrakech aunque la parte superior solo se terminó durante la época cristiana.

Cuenta la leyenda que cuando los musulmanes fueron derrotados pudieron derribar la torre para que no acabara en manos de los cristianos deseo que impulsó a Alfonso X a mantenerla como símbolo de una etapa importante de la historia de la ciudad.

En España hay otros muchos monumentos importantes como:

★ EL ALCAZAR

El Alcázar de Sevilla es un palacio real español, que ha sido ampliado varias veces.

El palacio es uno de los mayores ejemplos de arquitectura mudéjar, estilo arquitectónico que se desarrolló durante el reino cristiano de España.

Posteriormente, como ya se mencionó, se realizaron cambios en el estilo gótico.

El Alcázar se divide en tres secciones: el Patio de las Doncellas, los Baños de doña María de Padilla y la Casa de Contratación. Las tres secciones forman el Palacio Real Alcázar.

★ LA LENGUA

En Sevilla se habla español. aunque con un acento bastante distintivo. De todas formas, si eres de otro país y no sabes bien el español, no te preocupes, la gente está muy acostumbrada a entender y ser comprendida sin problemas.

En Sevilla, la comunicación nunca se detiene.

Si eres un amante de la carne, tenemos el plato para ti:

★ RABO DE TORO

El Rabo de Toro es uno de los platos más populares de Sevilla. El rabo de toro lo encontrarás servido de diferentes formas: puedes disfrutarlo tanto como plato principal como salsa para pasta, como un ragù "normal".

cardigan de Taylor Swift cardigan es una canción de la cantante estadounidense Taylor Swift. Fue lanzada el 24 de julio de 2020 a través de Republic Records, y es el primer sencillo de su octavo álbum de estudio Folklore (2020).

El video musical de la canción fue lanzado junto a la canción el 24 de julio de 2020 y al final del mismo puede leerse una dedicatoria para aquellos afectados y trabajadores de primera línea durante la pandemia del COVID-19.

I HOPE - LYRICS

"I Hope" es una canción co-escrita y grabada por el cantante estadounidense de música country Gabby Barrett. Un remix con Charlie Puth fue lanzado el 17 de abril de 2020. Ella dijo sobre la canción: "El hecho es que a veces esperamos lo peor cuando se trata de nuestros ex. Nunca diríamos eso, pero causa [estragos] dentro. Esta canción ahora dice las cosas que quizás tú o yo nunca dijimos."

Después su popularidad en los servicios de streaming comenzó a dispararse, el cantante Charlie Puth le envió un mensaje a Barrett en Instagram expresando lo mucho que amaba la canción y quería remezclarla. Una vez que estuvo de acuerdo, hubo un cambio rápido en la creación de la nueva versión, con Puth añadiendo voces al segundo verso de la canción e incluyendo una producción más pop-leaning.

Esta canción fue escrita y cantada por Luke Patterson, uno de los protagonistas de la serie "Julie and the Phantoms". Dedicó esta canción a su madre antes de morir. De hecho, Luke estaba a menudo en conflicto con sus padres y un día se fue de casa; nunca volvió a ver a sus padres y siempre le perseguía la culpa. Luke logra cantar esta canción a su madre en el séptimo episodio de la primera y única (por ahora) temporada de la serie original de Netflix.
